Run Report

(The Squat Spot)

In Squat's absence, this week's guest Squats are Anything and Uncle Fester. Does it really take two men to do the job of one woman???????

No Tuesday run last week but there were still three big runs.

1. ROTTO WEEKEND

By all accounts those who went to Rottneest had a great time as usual with a relaxing, enjoyable and fun weekend.

Uncle fester - the great boat race

I find it hard to believe that after 19 years of boat racing, no one has ever beaten Escargo and she doesn't even have a boat, and even more amazing was that the boat racing virgins were still as unsuspecting and keen as ever to claim the coveted 1st prize. The veterans made sure all the virgins were primed and ready as they crouched down over their fry pans, with their heads as close to the water as they dare but they didn't have to try too hard as many of the contestants were so primed it nearly came to blows with arguments breaking out all over the place about who's boat was the best. Escargo made sure her most prized contestant, the ever cocky Screwdriver with his boat called "submarine", was close by so she could have the pleasure of personally doing the dirty deed on him. The starter's (Escargo) hand was raised, "one, two, wham" the hand came down on the table, as did all the veterans hands simultaneously and up came the water all over the unsuspecting ex virgins

Recovery - the day after

"Unsuspecting" could also be the term used for Escargo at the "Recovery" run on Sun. She was called into the circle to receive her much earned 550 run award, when Screw, the bastard, snuck up behind her and gave her the ultimate champion boat racers prize, a good soaking with a bucket of water over the head. What a dummy spit, just because his boat (submarine) went under, "Escargo, you are still the undisputed, undefeated boat racing champion" of the world.

Check out the photos on the webpage – Thanks to Uncle Fester.

2. NUMBATS RUN (100thRun)

About a hundred hashers assembled at a park in Bullcreek together with nine from Rocky City. A great run which took us through the surrounding bush and roads, with a drink stop. A magnificent spread of food followed with a special cake to celebrate the 1000th Run. After the circle it was party time with dancing to a live band playing hits of the past. Well done Perth Numbats.

3. BUNNY RUN

The annual Bunny Run, hosted by 'South Of Perth' was held in South Perth beneath the Narrows Bridge with the fantastic view across the city. The view was further enhanced by all the Harriets in their 'horny' Bunny outfits. There were noticeably a lot of new hashers this year and an absence of some of the regulars. About 100 hashers turned up including a large contingent from Rocky City. The run took us through the streets of South Perth, through shopping centres and blocks of flats. Some of us missed the drink stops and somehow short-cutted the run. Some of the arrows seemed to cross over themselves and go round in circles. (A shit Run???? – oh well that's Hash). Back to the Narrows Bridge and into the drinking before a great spread of chicken, chips and salads. A typical 'South Of Perth' Circle with icings, naked arses, fun and good jokes. Great to see Rusty who had just come out of hospital and was determined not to miss the 'Bunny Run'. A great job by the GM and RA. Well done 'South Of Perth H3' for a fabulous night.
