Run Report

(The Squat Spot)

Uncle Fester's Run

The Mt Pleasant run was judged to be a plus 8 for Uncle Fester but I feel that there were under-handed deals going on. Just what influence did Recovery have on HJ since her return from Canada?

Summer must be on the way out and the torches were on. Baboon's torch was non functioning when he ran into a low branch and nearly knocked himself out - Plus 8 run - you have to be kidding!

Whoremoman was well back in the runners field having tired himself out at Easter - house cleaning.

Guest runner Nathan managed to lead HJ and Anything astray down some side streets but with HJ's booming voice they soon got back on the trail.

Fester invited a few passersby to join us but when I attempted to get 3 walkers to join us, I got the clown plants

The weather perfect, the return trail took us along the river banks.

As the only male Hasher, Moparse escorted the Hariettes on their walk.

Unable to get a word in, he walked on alone ensuring that the Hariettes' tongues did not weigh them down causing them to drop too far behind.

The orange shirts in the fading light of the car park were a welcome sight for the runners to have a drink stop. A nice drop of Cowboy went down a treat.

In the circle on the balcony of Penhros Rowing Club, Babbit joined us in the outer - texting his girl friends.

Serenity found that the most innovative way to wear orange was to put an orange in her mouth.

But the prize for the night has to go to Koowala. Many of us caught the train to the venue. Koowala with money in hand, jumped on the train to return to Kwinana. The ticket inspectors came along and Koowala's heart was beating hard. Snowy was quick to show his ticket and somehow Koowala managed to get off the train with her fare still in her very sweaty hand and without any explanation to the inspector.

Lucky day Koowala!
